THE GANG OF THE ELEVEN

Benjamin was a shy small redfish. He ate algae and played ball with his friends. One day, a gang of ten fish invited him to join them. To him. Just to him. Benjamin felt proud and he joined them. Then, he became the fish number eleven. Everybody respected the gang of the eleven: they got all they wanted and nobody contradicted them. One day, Benjamin realized that in fact, it was because the rest was scared of the group. Their jokes were not funny, actually. Then, he made a decision; he did not follow them anymore. He stopped being the fish number 11.

Because in a true gang, everybody counts and all should have its place.
