Day dawns over the savannah. The sun rises, glimmering.
It is a beautiful day.

The mouse is humming with wild delight amongst the plants.
'How lovely and warm it is!'

However, the giraffe is not at all happy. He looks at the mouse out of the corner of his eye and says.
'Lovely and warm? Climb up onto my head and you'll see how, from up above, the sun isn't so wonderful.'

The mouse accepts and perches himself atop the giraffe's head. From all the way up there, he tries to cheer up his grumpy neighbour.

'What amazing colours!'

But she just grumbles.

'I find them dizzying!'
