

The Fart Monster

Paco Cholbi
Carles Arbat

bromera

On Goosebump Lane in a town called Scarechildren, there lived a little monster who was kind and fun.
He loved to play and eat chocolate with both hands.

Every day he went happily off to monster school to learn how to be scary. He especially enjoyed studying phantasmagorical maths... He wanted to be the most frightening monster in the world.

What's more, he came from a famous family of monsters. Everyone knew his parents, aunts, uncles, grandparents and great-grandparents and how well they worked.

