

Josep Gregori

Fran Parreño

Six Years,
Six Little Houses

algar

In a few days I'll be six years old.
But I don't know if I'll have a birthday party, because my Mum and Dad are separated.

I live in two houses. Some days I stay with Daddy and others with Mummy. At first it was all a mess... but now it can be fun. There are some days I don't have the right clothes in the house where I go to sleep.

Once, after school, my parents weren't sure who was meant to pick me up that day.

